During called CCBOE meeting

Resignation of Zion Chapel School principal approved

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Coffee County Board of Education met Thursday, May 23, for a called meeting, and a principal resignation was among the personnel matters approved by board members.

Zion Chapel School principal Vohn Enloe submitted his letter of resignation, to become effective June 30th. Upon recommendation of superintendent Kevin Killingsworth, the board voted to approve Enloe's resignation.

Board members also approved the resignation of Elizabeth Giddens Dunbar, an English language arts teacher at New Brockton High School.

Board members approved the hire of one new teacher during the called meeting. Andrew Booker was hired as a special education teacher at New Brockton High School.

The board had three support personnel matters to consider as well.

The resignation of Justin Bradley, bus driver at Zion Chapel, while the employment of Tiffany Massey as an instructional aide for Pre-K at New Brockton Elementary School also received the board's go ahead.

Finally, board members approved the voluntary transfer of Amanda Dobbs from special education teacher to bookkeeper at Zion Chapel School.

Superintendent Killingsworth received approval from the board for the school system to conduct summer school again this year via the ACCESS (Alabama Connecting Classrooms, Educators, and Students Statewide) program. He said using ACCESS for summer school would require only a staffer on site to facilitate the classes.

Also upon recommendation of the superintendent, board members approved hiring [student] summer workers to assist with needs around the schools over the summer months and in getting the schools prepared for the new school year. Killingsworth said the summer workers would work no more than 30 hours per week.

"I want to extend thanks to all who had a part in making this a successful school year for us," the superintendent said regarding the 2018-2019 school year prior to the adjournment of last week's meeting. "This has certainly been a learning experience for myself with me being a first year superintendent, and I am appreciate to all who played a part in making the year go as smoothly as it possibly could go for us."

Vohn Enloe

Killingsworth also congratulated Kinston softball coach Andy Sanders and his team on a great season this year in softball. He said their success was commendable.

The next regular meeting for the Coffee County Board of Education is set for Thursday, June 6, at 5:30 p.m.

Adjust activities to avoid heat-related illnesses

The Alabama Department of Public Health advises the public to be alert to the warning signs of heat-related illnesses.

Heat-related illnesses occur when the body's temperature control system is overloaded. The Alabama Department of Public Health cautions everyone to be alert to the warnings that may signal help is needed.

Heat stroke, sometimes called sunstroke, is the most serious heat-related illness. It occurs when the body becomes unable to control its temperature.

The body's temperature rises rapidly, the sweating mechanism fails, and the body is unable to cool down. Body temperature may rise to 106 degrees F or higher within 10 to 15 minutes. Heat stroke can cause death or permanent disability if emergency treatment is not provided.

People should drink plenty of water, stay in an air-conditioned room, and keep out of the sun. The public should also check on elderly relatives, neighbors and friends, and ensure pets have plenty of water to drink and shade to cool off.

Everyone needs to adjust their activities and be alert to warnings that signal help is needed.

Warning signs of heat stroke vary, but include the following:

- An extremely high body temperature (above 103 degrees F)
- Red, hot and dry skin (no sweating)
- Rapid, strong pulse
- Throbbing headache
- Dizziness
- Nausea
- Confusion
- Unconsciousness

First aid recommendations are to get the person to a shady area, cool rapidly in a tub of cool water, place in a cool shower, spray with cool water from a garden hose, splash with cool water, or, if the humidity is low, place in a cool, wet sheet and fan vigorously. Monitor body temperature and continue cooling efforts until the person's body temperature drops to 101 to 102 degrees F.

If emergency medical personnel are delayed, call a hospital emergency room for further instructions. Heat stroke is a life-threatening emergency. A person with heat stroke is likely to be unconscious or unresponsive, so he or she cannot safely consume any liquids.

Under no circumstance should a person with heat stroke or any heat-related illness be given alcoholic beverages.

"Conscience is the inner voice that warns us somebody may be looking." – H. L. Mencken

As careful as we try to be, a personal credit card hack was caught this past weekend on our Number 1, favorite charging system. All ended well, thanks to an alert security system with our credit card folks. They didn't say how they caught and stopped the transaction and we didn't ask, were just grateful they somehow declined the gas station effort . . . in New Jersey! In fact we assume our card number was hacked at a gas pump because for at least the last several months at every other place we used the card the machine(s) accepted the super safe embedded chip. It was serious enough that the credit card company recommended us getting a new card number. That of course means we need to tell those folks who automatically charge things to our card they must wait a week for our shiny new card to arrive. But not to fear, it didn't stop our spending . . . we just pulled out another credit card.

It is interesting to occasionally listen to TV news folks from different talk shows report the latest political news. However it can get disgusting in a hurry! Both stories can't be true, as they often report completely different versions of the events, with an entirely different goal and/or results. Yes 'fake news' is real and some of the most informed and trained folks are at the root of many, if not most, of these Lopsided 'news stories'. About the only thing we can do is ignore the whole mess or get into the main issues deep enough to know which one is actually 'telling it like it is'.

Recently an Elba board was engulfed in a gaggle of missteps. First the public hearing was not advertised as required. Second there was not a quorum of members present to hold a meeting. Then the two members present took a vote by phone from two absent members. Any one of those infractions would be enough of a violation of Alabama law to make the actions null and void. We have heard of no one opposed to the Zoning Board of Adjustments having opposition to any decision they were considering, but got a rash of complaints over their illegal procedural infractions. Such illegal procedures can cause expensive (and embarrassing) consequences for everyone down the road. This stumble is being corrected so all ends well . . . this time. However we encourage . . . no we almost demand . . . that steps be taken so that local governing bodies, committees, etc., know and follow state and federal laws . . . every time.

This Memorial Day there were flags on the graves of many American military veterans in local cemeteries. This left a warm feeling in our chest. For years we have driven through cemeteries hoping to see this respect to those who gave so much for our freedoms. This time it happened. Thanks to those who went the extra mile to make this a reality.

Last week a freak boating accident in Northwest Florida took the life of a young relative of yours truly. We don't yet know the full details of the event, and that doesn't matter. This young man had a lot going for him, a great family, etc., and that is now in the memory banks of all those friends and family who knew him. This particular death has bothered us for some reason or another more than lots of other accidents. That doesn't make it any better or worse than others it just has more of a personal impact.

CEC installs solar array to learn more about solar energy and its viability in local area

Covington Electric Cooperative announced last week the completion of a 9.6 kW solar demonstration project at its headquarters facility in Sanford.

The demonstration project will help CEC evaluate solar energy technology.

"Some of our members have expressed a strong desire for renewable energy to be a part of our energy mix," said Ed Short, CEC general manager and CEO. "This demonstration site allows us to learn about the advantages and disadvantages of solar energy and determine whether it is a good fit for our cooperative and our members."

Short said the project is similar in size to a residential installation because another goal of the project is to help members learn how residential solar works before they invest in systems for their homes or businesses.

"This project is designed to show members an actual solar project, so they will have accurate information when making decisions about whether to purchase a solar installation," he said.

The system will show daily output of a solar array for a home in the CEC service area with an average energy use of about 13,200 kWh per year. The power generated by this solar array will be put back on the CEC system at their headquarters.

The system cost approximately $35,000 which includes installation. It is owned by CEC's wholesale power provide, PowerSouth Energy Cooperative, and the power it generates will be billed back to CEC by PowerSouth due to the All Power Requirements contract between CEC and PowerSouth.

CEC says they will track the system's output and a link to that information is now available on their website at www.covington.coop. Members can click on the link to see hourly production as well as history and how weather impacts the system's output.

For more information about this project or to discuss CEC's interconnection and metering policies, please contact CEC at 1-800-239-4121.

Beware of effects of tobacco smoke on those with asthma

The Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) reminds people of the harmful effects smoking and secondhand smoke have on those suffering from asthma.

Asthma is a chronic disease that affects a person's airways. During an asthma attack, airways become swollen, making it hard to breathe. Asthma attacks, which can range from mild to life-threatening, are triggered when something irritates the airways. Triggers differ from person to person, but, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), one of the most common triggers is tobacco smoke, including secondhand smoke.

"One of the things people with asthma have to do to manage their disease is avoid triggers," said Jennifer McNeel, director of the ADPH Tobacco Prevention and Control program.

McNeel said one way asthma sufferers can protect themselves is not allowing others to smoke in their home or car. "Opening a window will not protect you from smoke or a potential asthma attack," she said. Other tips include:

- Avoid places that allow smoking.
- If children with asthma attend day care centers or schools, make sure those places have tobacco-free policies.

According to the Asthma and Allergy Foundation of America, children with asthma have worse and more frequent asthma attacks. McNeel said protecting children and other asthma sufferers from the potential trigger of tobacco smoke is just one among many benefits to quitting smoking.

"In addition to protecting family, friends and coworkers from the health risks associated with breathing secondhand smoke, smokers can reduce their own risk for heart attacks and cancer," McNeel said.

For those who are ready to kick the habit, the Alabama Tobacco Quitline is available. Alabama residents can call 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669) or visit www.quitnowalabama.com for help. The Quitline provides free, individualized coaching to help any type of smoker or tobacco user, including those using e-cigarettes and vaping, to quit. Anna Marie Bowers graduates May 4th from the University of Alabama

Anna Marie Bowers, daughter of Brett and Karen Davis of Elba, graduated Cum Laude May 4, 2019 from the University of Alabama.

While majoring in general studies in human environmental sciences, Bowers' focus was on human development and family studies. She was inducted into the following honor societies: Sigma Alpha Lambda, The National Society of Leadership and Success, and Phi Sigma Theta.

ADPH encourages healthy and safe swimming practices

The Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) emphasizes the importance of taking simple steps to prevent pool chemical injuries and promote healthy swimming habits.

Healthy swimming is not just about the steps pool operators and pool inspectors take. Each must do his/her part to help keep healthy this summer and year-round.

Pool chemicals are added to maintain water quality and kill germs that may cause illness.

Each year, however, mishandling pool chemicals when treating public or residential pools, hot tubs, spas and water playgrounds leads to 3,000-5,000 visits to U.S. emergency departments. To ensure a safe swimming environment, state and local standards specify how to maintain treated water venues.

ADPH encourages those who plan to participate in recreational water activities this season to take the following steps to prevent illness and injuries:

- Make sure everyone knows how to swim before participating in recreational water activities.
- Before getting in the water, do a mini-inspection.
- Use a test strip from a local retailer or pool supply store to check basic chemistry levels in pools and spas:

~ Always follow the manufacturer's directions
 ~ PH: 7.2 - 7.8

~ Free chlorine: at least 3 parts per million (ppm) in hot tubs and spas and at least 1 ppm in pools and water playgrounds

~ Bromine: at least 4 ppm in hot tubs and spas and at least 3 ppm in pools and water playgrounds

• Shower before getting in the water.

• Stay out of the water if sick with diarrhea.

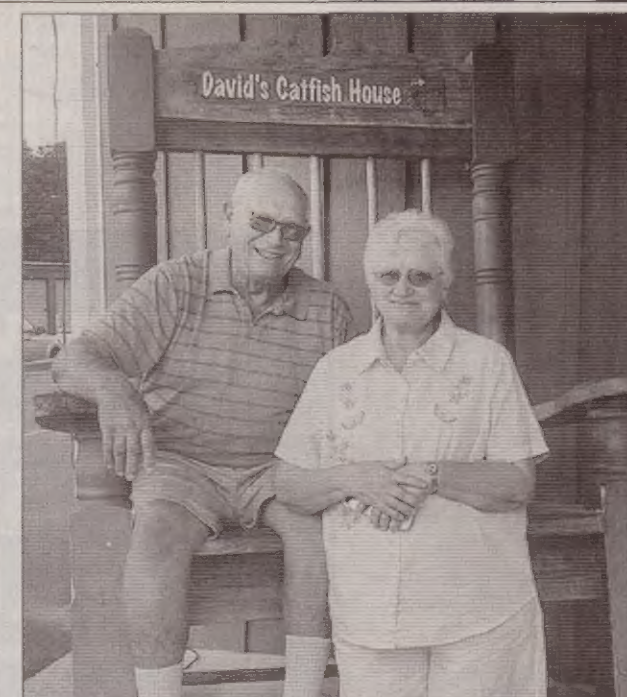

ADPH also encourages safe swimming habits when enjoying natural waters:

• If a person has open wounds, cuts, abrasions and sores, stay out of the water. In brackish and warm sea water, such as bay or gulf waters, Vibrio bacteria occur naturally. These bacteria can cause disease in people who eat contaminated seafood and in those with open wounds that are exposed to seawater.

• If a person gets a cut while in the water, immediately wash the wound with soap and fresh water. If the wound shows any signs of infection (redness, pain or swelling) or if the cut is deep, get medical attention immediately.

SENIORS FROM NEW HOPE SENIOR CENTER GO OUT FOR LUNCH! On Friday, May 24, seniors from the New Hope Senior Center enjoyed food, fun, and fellowship at David's Catfish in Andalusia, Ala. For some it was a first time visit to the popular restaurant, and for others it was a return visit. For all it was a wonderful experience with awesome food!! The group that enjoyed the meal together is pictured above, while (photo to the right) Roy and Judy Byrd also enjoyed a photo op from the big David's Catfish House rocking chair that sits on the front porch of the business. This is just one of the many fun outings seniors get to enjoy through their participation with the center.

I can't see myself leaving God
He has done so much for me
His grace caught my falling soul
And set my poor soul free

I can't see myself leaving God
I'll believe in Him and I'll obey
I repent of my sins, please forgive
I'll walk the straight and narrow way

I can't see myself leaving God
His blessings make me strong
I'm going to lift Him up
By praising Him all day long

I can't see myself leaving God
I ask Him to renew my mind
He may not come when I want Him
But He's always on time

Free fishing day in Alabama set for June 8th

On Saturday, June 8, Alabamians and visitors alike will have the opportunity to fish for free in most public waters including both fresh-water and saltwater.

Free Fishing Day is part of National Fishing and Boating Week, which runs June 1-9. Free Fishing Day allows residents and non-residents to enjoy the outstanding fishing opportunities Alabama has to offer without having to purchase a fishing license.

The fishing license exemption on Free Fishing Day does not affect some lakes and piers that may still require fees and permits. Fishing in a private pond requires the pond owner's permission.

Anglers can visit www.outdooralabama.com/ fishing to find a great fishing spot for Free Fishing Day.

"Free Fishing Day is the perfect opportunity for non-anglers to test the fishing waters and to remind former anglers of all the fun they've been missing," said Nick Nichols, Fisheries Section Chief for the Alabama Division of Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries. "It's a great opportunity for kids to learn how fun and exciting fishing is, while giving families a chance to do something together outdoors."

SPORTS NEWS

Views From The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our grandson Lawson got his summer vacation off to a fast start over the weekend as he spent the day at a farm living the life of a cowboy on Saturday and then headed down to Vortex Springs on Sunday to get in a little swimming and a lot of fun. I'm sure he will slow down in the days to come, but the first weekend was quite a start.

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers closed out the sports year at Elba High last week with a win over New Brockton at a spring football game, and looking back it was a successful year for all the sports the Elba High. The football team won only seven regular season games for the first time since 2013 and scored its fewest points since the 2013 season, but advanced to the playoffs for the 14th time in the past 15 years, while the basketball team reached the regional tournament for the sixth straight season and posted its most wins since back in 2015, and the baseball team rebounded from a two-win season a year ago to post its most wins since 2016. In girls' sports, the basketball team posted its second straight 11-win season after winning a total of 11 games the previous two seasons, while the softball team reached double digits in wins for the second straight season and has now won a total of 26 games over the last two years after winning a total of only four games the previous two years seasons. The volleyball team matched its win total for the past two years and also began to set a solid foundation by fielding a junior high, junior varsity and varsity team to allow the players to grow in the sport. Yep, it was a pretty good year to be an Elba Tiger.

 I read in a large daily newspaper last week that every team in the NFL has at least one player from an Alabama high school on its roster. The list includes 68 schools, with Daphne and Oxford leading the way with four, apiece, while the Houston Texans lead the NFL with seven in-state players, followed by the 49'ers and Redskins with six, apiece. A couple of players on the list that caught my eye included Quindarius Thagard, Luverne; TJ Barnes, Enterprise; Malik Reed, Dothan; Za'Darius Smith, Greenville; Chris Landrum, Sweet Water; Xavier Woodson, Eufaula; Josh Allen, Abbeville; and, Steve McLendon, Carroll, of Ozark. Everyone knows about all the collegiate players from the state that move on, but for this number of actual high school players to make the NFL is quite a feat.

 In closing.... the recent hot weather has the area fishermen heading out to the county lake early in the mornings and late in the evenings, but all area anglers need to remember that the lake is open until midnight on Saturday nights to let the temperatures go down a little. All night fishing is restricted to the banks and piers, but it is a cheap alternative to a movie and dinner out, and it is a chance to get outside and get some fresh air. See'ya there.

Puts name in record book

Leanna Johnson completes freshman year at Troy with conference and regional honors

Brantley native Leanna Johnson recently completed her freshman season at Troy University as a member of the Trojan softball team and continued her dominance inside the circle as a collegiate pitcher as she helped lead Troy to a 37-20 record and entered her name into the school's softball record book.

Johnson, a hard throwing right-hander, put her name in the 'Top 10' all-time in the Trojan record book as she posted a 2.19 earned run average, recorded 231 strikeouts and won 25 games, including seven shutouts. The 231 strikeouts placed her 21st in the nation among Division 1 pitchers, while the 25 wins ranked 14th in the nation and the seven shutouts ranked 30th in the NCAA.

Johnson's performance as a freshman also earned her honors as the Sun Belt Conference 'Freshman of the Year,' a first team 'All-Sun Belt' Conference selection, and a second team selection to the National Fast-Pitch Coaches Association's 'South Region' team.

The former Brantley Lady Bulldog standout started 30 games during her freshman season and pitched 19 complete games in recording a 25-9 record and 1 save. During the season, she pitched a total of 217 and 1/3 innings, while the remainder of the Trojan pitching staff recorded a total of 160 innings. She walked 54 batters, allowed 148 hits, allowed 68 earned runs and opponents batted only .193 against her. She also fielded her position as she recorded four putouts and eight assists, and made no errors.

While at Brantley High School, Johnson was perhaps the state's most dominant pitcher as led the Lady Bulldogs to three state championships and one runner up finish in her final four seasons, and in her junior and senior seasons helped the team post a remarkable record of 109 wins and only 8 losses.

The name 'Leanna Johnson' appears throughout the pages of the Alabama High School Athletic Association record book and documents her career as a high school standout. She ranks 1st in most no-hitters in a season with 15, 2nd in most shutouts in a season with 31, 3rd in most no-hitters in a career with 30, 3rd in most perfect games in a season with 5, 5th in most perfect games in a career with 8, 5th in most career wins with 162, 6th in most wins in a season with 44, 10th in most strikeouts in a career with 1,714, and 16th in most strikeouts in a season with 536.

As Johnson works to get ready for her sophomore season, the staff members that keep up with records are no doubt already waiting to see how high the softball superstar can move up in all pitching stats.
